Geography

Look at a picture of the Union Jack flag and write down some facts you can find out about it. For example; it is made up of 3 other flags (Scotland, England and Northern Ireland) although Wales is considered a country it is actually a principality so its flag is not included.

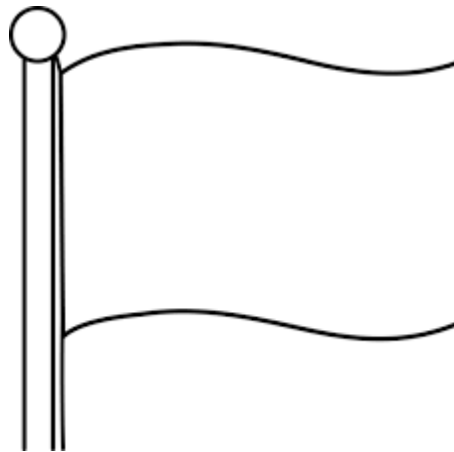

Can you find out and draw the individual flags and show how they are joined together to make The Union Jack.

On a map of the UK find where the 4 countries are. Can you remember what the capital cities are? On a blank map colour the countries in different colours which match their flags and write on the names of the capital cities.

You could also make the different flags and label them with their correct names.

Map located at the end of the document.

Theme Maths Challenge

You are going to design your own flag.

The flag has just 3 vertical sections of the same size.

You can only use the colours red, blue and yellow in your flag, but you can use the same colour more than once in a flag design.

How many different flags can you design? How will you record your answers?

(Possible answers:

RRR, RRB, RRY, RBB, RBY, RYY, RYB,

BBB, BBR, BBY, BRR, BRY, BYY, BYR

YYY, YYR, YYB, YRR, YRB, YBB, YBR = 18 different designs)

Red cloth costs £25 per section

Blue cloth costs £15 per section

Yellow cloth costs £8 per section

Work out the costs of each of your flag designs.

A flag with a red section, a blue section and a yellow section would cost

$\pounds 25 + \pounds 15 + \pounds 8 = \pounds 48$

Use equipment as needed to support with this.

Which of your flags is the cheapest?

Which is the most expensive?
